

The Matter With Us

It is cold
we have made
once more

narrowing
the blaze
to this still point

to turn and ponder
dispassionately

concentrating
grains of fire-sung ice

keen as the
much folded tip
of a Japanese sword.

